THE KIEL CELEBRATION.

The Town Crowded with Visitors from All Parts of Germany.

EMPEROR WILLIAM FOR PEACE.

The German Ruler's Significant Utterance at a Banquet in Hamburg—Description of the Great Canal Which Connects the German Government $25,500,000.

KIEL, June 20.—All day long yesterday there was a ceaseless incoming of trains, hither on the railroads, each one filled to the last inch of available space with eager humanity. Visitors have flocked in thousands in the streets of the town and in the harbor, and every place is overflowing with people. The main streets are almost impassable with the streams of men, women and children.

The crews of the American, French, Austrian, Roumanian and Spanish warships were allowed shore leave. The Austrians, as the representatives of one of the chief objects of interest to the spectators. Pleasure steamers, loaded to their utmost capacity with crowds of sightseers, made numerous trips all day in the harbor, each one going the rounds of all the warships, which are the central feature in the great spectacle. Each pleasure steamer as they came abreast a man-of-war exchanged cheers with the jolly tars on board, and none of them ever seemed to grow weary.

The Empress Augusta of Germany arrived here at 8 o'clock last evening, and was received at the station with great ceremony and driven to the Schloss amid salvos of artillery and the cheering of the multitude which lined all the streets.

The great event at Hamburg yesterday was the arrival of Emperor William, who reached the city at 1:15, accompanied by a staff of brilliant uniforms. A company of the Hamburg regiment, with band and banner, rendered military honors at the station, where also the entire senate and burgomasters of the republic and Hansa City of Hamburg were in attendance. After the reception at the station the company was driven in open state carriages through the principal streets of Hamburg. In the evening there was a banquet at the Rathaus, with the emperor as the principal figure. Burgomaster Lehman welcomed the emperor to Hamburg in a patriotic address, and the emperor responded in a brief speech, in concluding which he said:

"We have cast a glance upon the eternal sea. Let us now direct our looks to the sea of the people's hearts. All nations uplift themselves to us here today with a questioning look. They need and desire peace. In peace alone can the world's commerce expand. In peace alone can it thrive, and peace we shall uphold." At the banquet the number of guests at his majesty's table was sixty-four; the total number of guests, including the members of the diplomatic corps, who dined in a separate room, was 600. The varied uniforms of the guests, the contrasting colors, the profusion of military and other decorations, and the general aspect of stately magnificence and power presented a splendid spectacle.

The great canal which joins Baltic sea to the German ocean was eight years in building, and cost $25,500,000. It intersects the peninsula of Schleswig-Holstein from Brunsbüttel, near the mouth of the Elbe, to Holtenau, on the Kell bay and opposite that city, a distance of about fifty-nine miles. The entrances at both termini have been provided with dock gates for the passage of vessels both entering or leaving the canal.

At the Kiel end the gates will be generally open. At the Brunsbüttel end they will be opened in normal weather during flood tide for a period of three or four hours each day. Each of the gates is 27½ yards wide, and the space enclosed by its walls is 104 yards in length. The lowest possible depth of water at Brunsbüttel end is a little more than six fathoms and at Holtenau a trifle more.

The whole canal is lighted by electricity, and the light furnished is powerful enough to enable navigators to plainly discern the route by night. At all those points where the canal runs through small lakes and ponds, of which quite a number lie along the route, the buoys are lighted by gas.

Steam tugs are stationed at each main gate to the canal to assist the passage of vessels, and inside the gates are harbors for the accommodation of vessels which have to wait for passage. At the lowest possible water the canal has a depth of four and a half fathoms. The breadth at the bottom of the canal is twenty-four and one-tenth yards. At several points the canal is crossed by movable bridges, which, when opened, leave a free space of fifty-four and one-fourth yards. There are also a number of ferries.

The men of the German ironclads Heimdall and Hagen regaled the American and Danish sailors at the Waldweitz restaurant on Tuesday. Yesterday the crews of the German ironclads Sachsen and Württemberg desired to similarly compliment the crews of the French men-of-war Hoche and Dupuy Deloime, but the French admiral declined to allow the Frenchmen to go on shore, explaining that the French crews are not permitted to land during their presence in Kiel harbor.

Arrested on a Murder Charge. KETZTOWNS, Pa., June 20.—George Yeager, aged 31, was arrested last evening on suspicion of having committed the murder of Daniel W. Stitzel, who was mysteriously shot near here on Monday night. Yeager lived with the family of Theodore Schwanger, a farmer, near the home of Stitzel, and it is supposed that he was jealous because Mrs. Schwanger was more friendly to Stitzel than to himself.

WISE WORDS TO WOMEN.

Miss Frances E. Willard Speaks on the Subject of Dress.

LONDON, June 20.—In her address before the third biennial convention of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union, which opened in Queen's hall yesterday, President Frances E. Willard spoke as follows on the question of dress:

"The reasoning faculty in woman has but recently reached a point where they begin to wonder why it is that they must deck in garments of such material, cut and color as somebody chooses who has not yet been authorized to choose, and why that somebody should choose, as she, she or it is pleased to do, is one of the questions which has invaded the outer court of many a woman's mind.

"One thing is certain, when women come to themselves out of the dream and illusion of ages, when they have studied physiology and hygiene long enough to know that by their senseless and criminal manner of girding themselves about with tight corsets and bodices, cramping their feet and exposing their lower limbs insufficiently clad to the vicissitudes of climates; when they are intelligent enough to see and feel the degradation of sweeping all the microbes and filth of the pavement with their long skirts, it is safe to say there will be such another revolt from the prevailing methods of feminine attire as will prove in downright earnest that women have developed a future race worthy to live in that better world that we are now engaged in manufacturing here below."

Iowa's Prohibition Nominees.

DES MOINES, June 20.—The Iowa Prohibitionists made the following nominations for state officers: For governor, Frank Bacon; lieutenant governor, M. P. A. Wood; supreme court judge, Judge J. W. Rogers; superintendent of public instruction, Mrs. L. D. Carhart; railroad commissioner, J. F. Johns. The resolutions declare for woman suffrage; for the coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1; government ownership and operation of railways; revision of immigrant laws; Sunday observance; public schools and unalterable opposition to any diversion of the fund for the maintenance of sectarian schools, and for the income tax.

The Manitoba School Fight.

WINNIPEG, June 20.—There is no doubt of the result of the vote when the present debate on the separate schools question is concluded by Manitoba's legislature. The reply drafted by Premier Greenway will be carried by at least twelve majority. As the debate progresses there is more evidence of fight on both sides, and reports from Ottawa that the French members there were trying to force the Dominion government to reestablish separate schools do not tend to assist the strained relations existing between the two factions.

Minister Ransom's Health.

RALEIGH, June 20.—Conflicting reports have been current regarding the health of ex-Senator Ransom, now minister to Mexico, who recently returned to this state to recuperate. General Ransom, who is nearly 70 years of age, is very feeble, but he expects to regain his accustomed health during his sixty days' leave. Upon the realization of this hope depends his return to Mexico. He has spent nearly all his life near the sea level, and the 7,500 feet altitude of the City of Mexico has not agreed with him.

The Western Union Steps Out.

PHILADELPHIA, June 20.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Bell Telephone company the directors representing the interests of the Western Union Telegraph company retired, and new members were elected. It was stated that the Western Union men had sold their interests on the board at the request of the telephone people. They stepped out to make room for men who have financial interests in the Bell company.

William Henry Not a Paricide.

BROOKLYN, June 20.—William Henry, accused of the murder of his father, Charles W. Henry, the old miser on South Portland avenue, was acquitted by the coroner's jury yesterday afternoon. The verdict was received with cheers by the crowd. Walter Henry, who is known as the "good son," and who tried to fasten the crime on his father, disappeared.

Women Who Oppose Woman Suffrage.

ALBANY, June 20.—The Women's Anti-Suffrage league, through representatives in this city, has presented a memorial to the commission to draft a charter for cities of the second class protesting against the granting of municipal suffrage to women. The petition asserts that the majority of the women tax payers of the state do not desire suffrage.

Manga, an Express Train.

READING, Pa., June 20.—Mrs. Levi Steele, aged 65 years, while walking on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad tracks near Wernersville, was instantly killed by an express train. The body was horribly mangled.

Gomez's Alleged "Army."

GAINESVILLE, Fla., June 20.—R. F. Anderer has received a letter from Major Hann, of the Cuban revolutionary army, which declares that General Gomez's army consists of 15,000 fighting men.

NUGGETS OF NEWS.

The Chilean budget for 1896 shows an estimated surplus of $7,000,000. Democrats of Colorado will meet at Denver July 2 to discuss the silver question.

Iowa's supreme court sustained the decree of the lower court closing the saloons of the state. A Pekin dispatch says the Russo-Chinese loan has not yet been signed. A suggestion for a Japan-China alliance has not been discussed.

It is now known that the shortage of Treasurer Bolton, of Omaha, Neb., will not exceed $19,000, and that there was no intentional dishonesty.

THE FIGHT FOR SILVER.

The White Metallists Active at the Cleveland Convention.

BOTH SIDES SHOW THEIR COLORS.

Yellow Badges Predominate, but Those Who Wear White Badges Are Still Undismayed—Friends of Presidential Aspirants Actively at Work.

CLEVELAND, June 20.—The opening session of the eighth national convention of Republican clubs adjourned at 1 p. m. yesterday until 10 a. m. today, after disposing of all preliminaries and routine matters. There were no developments in the convention indicating the contest between those wearing yellow and white badges, and representing respectively the gold and the silver standards, but in the committee rooms, at the Arcade, hotels and elsewhere the fight continued.

The committee on credentials had considerable amusement over the South Carolina contest. The committee on league work, rules and order of business had nothing unusual. The committee on time and place selected Milwaukee as the place for the next national convention, and referred the selection of the date for the next national convention to the executive board, with instructions to select any date after that of the Republican convention. The postponement of the time to a date subsequent to the national convention next year, was for the purpose of avoiding any such contest on resolutions as that which is now confronting the delegates of the clubs.

There was a movement to conclude the work with the banquet tonight, but the agitation before the committee on resolutions during the afternoon and evening developed such differences that it is not likely the convention will close before tomorrow. The delegates from the west and south want to get away tomorrow.

As it is known that Governor McKinley cannot get here until tomorrow morning, there is a general desire to wait for him till that time, and some charge that his friends are seeking to prolong the proceedings so as to have a big McKinley victory. Others charge that the efforts to expedite business so as to conclude tonight were intended to give the delegates an opportunity to leave before McKinley's arrival.

The presidential boomers are being looked after as carefully as ever. The Iowa delegates keep open house for Allison, and the Hoosiers are quietly keeping Harrison in mind, while the New England delegates use the Blaine tactics for Reed. Mark A. Hanna, who is close to McKinley, has been keeping open house at his mansion all week. Yesterday Mr. Hanna gave a dinner at the Union League. While Mr. Hanna always believes McKinley to be the man of destiny, he says he was never so hopeful for the champion of protection as he is at this convention, owing to the expressions for his favorite from other states. He does not think the silver question will embarrass the protectionist.

It was conceded yesterday that the two leading offices would be divided between the gold and silver men by making General McAlpin, of New York, president, and John Byrnes, of Denver, secretary, but today it is proposed to refer the selection of a secretary to the executive board. It is claimed that A. B. Humphreys was first selected by the executive board and afterward re-elected by the annual conventions. The silver men think the New York delegation, after feeling confident of McAlpin's selection, are seeking to avoid having an ultra silver man for secretary.

The feature of yesterday was the silver fight before the committee on resolutions. The committee organized with Congressman J. B. Robinson, of Pennsylvania, as chairman, and H. G. Knowles, of Delaware, as secretary. The organization was against the silverites, but the latter were not discouraged and opened up the fight from the start. The committee was in open session till after 8 o'clock last evening, when, on motion of Congressman Tawney, of Minnesota, it adjourned till 8 p. m. for an executive session, at which time a sub-committee of nine was to be announced and time given the silver men and others for a hearing. The resolution of the silver men was offered, also other silver resolutions. The opponents of free silver offered the financial plank of 1892; also the recent Ohio plank adopted at Zanesville last month.

The compromise resolution attracting most attention was presented by Senator J. M. Thurston, of Nebraska, as follows: "We approve the declaration of the last Republican convention that 'the American people from tradition and interest favor bimetalism, and the Republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as a standard money, with such restrictions and under such provisions to be determined as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal, and refer the action for a more specific declaration to the next Republican convention, which alone has the power to bind the party or make platforms and declare principles."

There was no discussion of the tariff or any other issues in the committee of forty-six members except that of the silver plank, and no differences of opinion except on the silver question. Nearly all the members of the committee were instructed on the silver question by their respective state delegations, so that it will not be difficult to adopt a report. Still it is conceded that these instructions make it almost certain that both majority and minority reports will be presented to the convention. The silver men still have confidence in their strength among the delegates, although a majority of the committee is against them.

Jim Nutt Gets Fifteen Years.

ATCHISON, Kan., June 20.—James Nutt was yesterday sentenced to the penitentiary for fifteen years for shooting Mrs. Jesse Payton and Leonard Colman in this county on Feb. 1.

AFRAME ON THE OCEAN.

Fire Does $25,000 Damage on the Ward Line Steamer Yumuri.

QUARANTINE, S. I., June 20.—The Ward line steamer Yumuri, Captain Hansen, from Mexican ports via Havana, June 15, reached Quarantine shortly before 9 o'clock last evening. She brings a full cargo and fifty-six passengers.

Shortly after 10 o'clock Tuesday night, when off Cape Henry, one of the crew discovered smoke issuing from the forehold. An alarm was instantly given, and Captain Hansen ordered the hatches closed. Chief Engineer Euclic, with the assistance of the crew, turned the fire hose into the hold. Steam was turned on, and the compartment filled with steam. Much excitement prevailed among the passengers. Perfect discipline was maintained. The fire was confined to the forehold, although the vessel was enveloped in smoke. It is estimated that the extent of the damage will reach $25,000.

The passengers were overjoyed at their safe arrival in port, and were all more or less in an excited state. Every precaution was taken by the officers of the Yumuri for the safety of the passengers, and her six lifeboats were swung out, ready to be lowered at a moment's notice in case of need. In any case there was no great danger, as the steamer was coming up along the coast, and could, in case of necessity, have been beached or run up close to shore anywhere between the point where the fire was discovered and Sandy Hook.

Besides her valuable cargo of Mexican and Havana products, there was in the strong room of the purser the sum of $200,000 in Mexican silver. The specie weighed so much that the floor of the strong room had to be supported by beams from below, on the main deck.

Labor Arbitration in France.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Consul Walley, at St. Etienne, has sent to the state department a report upon labor arbitrations in France for the year 1894. The French law has been in operation for two years. It contemplates the voluntary submission by the parties interested of the questions in issue between them, first to a committee of conciliation, consisting of delegates chosen by the respective parties, and secondly in case of a failure to agree on the part of such committee to a council of arbitration. The proceedings may be initiated by either party, or, in case of a strike, upon the invitation of the justice of the district, but in all cases the agreement of both parties to submit the question is essential.

Wardon Chase Must Retire.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 20.—By a decision of the supreme court Warden Chase, of the state penitentiary, is formally removed from office, giving J. Bruce Lynch, recently appointed by Governor Merrill, possession at once. Chase was appointed by Governor Levee. His term had not expired, but an investigating committee recommended his removal. The governor issued the order of removal, but Chase refused to get out. Lynch then brought proceedings in the supreme court to oust him. The court was unanimous.

Another Victory for Governor Evans.

CHARLESTON, June 20.—In the court of general sessions Assistant Attorney General Townsend moved for a change of venue for the trial of seventy-five alleged violations of the dispensary law. Action was brought on account of the failure of the grand jury to indict six parties against whom the state claimed the strongest cases. Counsel for defendants opposed the motion, claiming that it was unconstitutional, but Judge Buchanan sided with the state, and granted a change of venue.

Suing for a Fortune.

DENVER, June 20.—Suit was instituted yesterday in the United States circuit court by T. D. Kelley, of Galena, Ill., for one-sixth interest in the Little Johnny mine at Leadville, which is said to be worth $50,000. The plaintiff's father, T. J. Kelly, was one of the original patentees of the Little Johnny mine. He died at Leadville in 1886. It is claimed his heirs were induced, by fraudulent representation, to sell his interest for $10,000.

Probably a Fatal Jump.

CHATTANOOGA, Va., June 20.—A car on the Lookout Mountain incline railway left the track while coming down the mountain about 200 feet from the Point hotel. V. B. Mitchell, president of the Third National bank of this city, and M. Henderson were standing on the platform in the rear of the car, and they both jumped, receiving serious and probably fatal wounds. The engineer stopped the car with the automatic brakes, none of those on the incline being hurt.

Fugitive Bank Cashier Arrested.

BALTIMORE, June 20.—W. J. Zirhut, cashier of the State bank of Millington, Neb., was arrested here on a charge of forgery, embezzlement, obtaining money under false pretenses, and for violation of the Nebraska banking law. Zirhut has been living in Baltimore since January under the name of Frank Corning. He says that he took $5,000 from the bank, but that $1,500 of the money belonged to himself. His wife is in Canton, O. He is held, awaiting requisition papers.

No Chance for Filibusters.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 20.—Reports that came from Fernandina yesterday that the revenue cutter Boutwell had run up the river, anchoring opposite the city and sent a searching party aboard all the vessels, among them three British steamships loading with phosphate, proves to be true, notwithstanding denials. The Boutwell seems determined to prevent another filibustering expedition from leaving Fernandina or the immediate vicinity.

The Case of Hugh F. Dempsey.

HARRISBURG, June 20.—The board of pardons heard arguments yesterday in a number of cases, but owing to the absence of Attorney General McCormick all action was postponed for the present. When the case of Hugh F. Dempsey, the Pittsburg labor leader, was reached Lieutenant Governor Lyon announced that the board would soon agree upon a time to hear the application for clemency.

LAWMAKING IN ITALY.

It Is Accompanied by the Argument of the Prize Ring.

A FREE FIGHT IN THE CHAMBERS.

Socialists Precipitate a Hand to Hand Conflict and Compel the Adjournment of the Chamber in Disarray—A Duel Being Arranged Between Deputies.

ROME, June 20.—The Italian deputies had an excited debate yesterday over a Socialist motion to extend general amnesty to those persons condemned by court martial. Premier Crispi, amid interruptions, said that the right of pardon was a royal prerogative, and the chamber could not grant amnesty. An uproar followed when turning to the Socialists he said: "When the time comes to recommend prisoners to the king's clemency the government will think not only of the leaders, in whom alone you are interested, but will think of all those who really suffer." A quarrel then broke out in the chamber, which Socialists finally led in a fistfight and a general tumult, amid which the sitting was suspended. When it was resumed the president ordered an inquiry into the incident, with a view to inflicting punishment. A duel is being arranged between Demitria Demitria and Casale.

At a meeting of the majority in the chamber last night, 238 deputies being present, Premier Crispi declared that the incident proved the necessity of new regulations for the chamber. A resolution was adopted that Deputy Cibrario should present a motion to the chamber that this was the sense of the majority, and should demand that it be voted upon forthwith.

The Rome correspondent of the London Times telegraphs that paper as follows: "Today's scene in the chamber was disgraceful. An actual combat, in which the entire extreme left and most of the adjoining section of the chamber soon participated, occurred and the staircase leading to the upper benches was soon densely packed with a fighting crowd. There seems a consensus of opinion that the president of the chamber is incompetent to direct its proceedings."

France and Venezuela.

CARACAS, Venezuela, June 20.—The government has given out that there is every prospect of an early settlement of the difficulties pending between this country and France, while like letters received from Paris, and from reliable sources, assert just the contrary, and intimate that if England and France do not make common cause against this country it is more than likely that France will help England claim, and recognize them as just. A semi-official telegram received last evening from Washington announced that the secretary of state would follow up the policy of the late Secretary Gresham and will finish a new interpretation of the Monroe doctrine which the late secretary had in mind.

Inspector McLaughlin's Sentence.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Judge Barrett, in the court of oyer and terminer, sentenced Police Inspector William W. McLaughlin, convicted of extortion, to two years and six months in state's prison. On hearing the sentence McLaughlin turned sullenly pale. A week's stay was granted to allow the condemned man to arrange his affairs before leaving for prison. Subsequently an order to show cause why a stay should not be granted pending an appeal was made by Justice Gaynor in this city. The order was made returnable on Saturday in Brooklyn.

Hayward Gets a Stay.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 20.—The Hayward case was presented to the judges yesterday in Chambers, and a stay of thirty days was granted upon condition that the case be argued this term, which ends July 3. Hayward was to have been executed tomorrow. The probability is that a new trial will be refused, and the condemned man will likely be executed some time during the month of July. He has already expressed himself as being opposed to any unnecessary delay if he is to be executed.

Tried to Murderer His Wife.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 20.—In a fit of jealousy Samuel Leabman fatally wounded his wife yesterday afternoon by shooting her in the left breast. The would-be murderer tried to escape, but was arrested and placed in jail.

A Missing Man's Body Recovered.

NIAGARA FALLS, June 20.—The body of Jacob S. Kerengood, who, on the night of Nov. 9 last, disappeared in a most mysterious manner from a sleeping car on the Michigan Central railroad between St. Thor, Ont., and Syracuse, N. Y., was discovered yesterday floating in the Niagara river opposite Lewistown.

Murderers to be Taken Back to Germany. NEW YORK, June 20.—United States Marshal Bernhard brought here from Philadelphia Mrs. Matilda Heinze and Oscar Heinman, who are wanted in Germany on the charge of having murdered the woman's husband there.

No Hope for Governor Atkinson.

ATLANTA, June 20.—At 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon the physicians in attendance upon Governor Atkinson announced that he was rapidly sinking, but about 7 o'clock a slight change for the better occurred in the patient's condition. The physicians still consider the case practically hopeless, however, and distrust the permanency of the improvement. The family and friends are prepared for the worst.

A Noble Charity.

WINSTON, N. C., June 20.—Mr. Turf, a philanthropist of Boston, has purchased 5,000 acres of land near Southern Pines, on which he will erect 500 cottages for the benefit of persons suffering with consumption. He says he will provide every employment for the class of persons whom he has seen fit to make homes for.

Gentlemen—I have used tobacco for over twenty-five years, chewing and smoking every day from 7 a. m. to 9 p.

m., stopping only for meals.

On Monday, February 4th, I called at your office in Springfield, and bought a bottle of the Cure, which I used as directed, and on the tenth day the desire for tobacco had left me and it has not returned. I did not lose a meal while taking the Cure. My appetite has improved and I consider Narcoti-Cure a grand thing.

Very respectfully,
CHAS. I. LINCOLN.

FUN IN THE GALLERY

THE PHOTOGRAPHER DOESN'T AL-WAYS SEE THE HUMOROUS SIDE.

The Woes With Which He Is Beset by All Sorts and Conditions of Men—It Is a Business Where Much Knowledge of Human Nature Is Necessary.

"Oh, my goodness gracious, sakes, alive! That's horrid. Why, I wouldn't give a picture like that to one of my friends for worlds."

"But, Miss Blank, you forget that this is only a proof."

"A proof, is it? And what were you trying to prove by making me look like that? That I am 100 years old or had been through a fever before the picture was taken?"

"Miss Blank, I think you are a little unreasonable. This is nothing but a proof, and all of those dark shadows and hard lines will be toned down. I admit, as it is, it does not do you justice."

"Justice? Well, I should say not. I ain't very conceited about my looks, but if I thought I was as hideous as that picture makes me I'd wear a mask."

This, in substance, is a dialogue in a photograph gallery a few days ago. A woman had "come in to see her proofs," and the clerk had blandly handed the cause of all the commotion over the showcase, behind which she had intrenched herself. The customer, or "subject," as the photographers term their patrons, was mad as soon as she saw the proof. But the diplomacy of the young woman behind the showcase would have given points to a politician.

She was thoroughly in earnest or confidential or friendly or a little bit troubled, all in one breath. It was apparent that she had been there before, and she demonstrated that she was well acquainted with the premises. And she was truthful. She knew that it wasn't fair to judge the plate by the proof, and,
what is more, she succeeded in convincing the subject that this was the case.

"Very well, Miss Blank," she said when the atmosphere had cleared somewhat. "We will finish some of them, and you come in and see 'em, and if you feel then as you do now we won't ask you to take 'em."

As the door closed the clerk rearranged some photographs of party gowns on the showcase, looked away into space for a few moments and murmured,
"Oh, bummie," and then went back and thrust her head into the pokabonnet contrivance where she was making ugly people look a little less so, and there was silence in the room.

"Do you have many cases of that kind to handle?" the photographer was asked.

"Well, no, not many. Of course there are some people who are bound to kick away. But I have noticed that such characters have more self conceit than they are entitled to. We have all kinds of people to handle." And then followed a little dissertation which would interest subjects, and particularly the women, who have ever tried and intend to try conclusions with the camera. The stock remark which at some time nearly every subject utters as she comes in to the presence of the camera cyclops is that she had "about as soon have a tooth pulled as to have a picture taken."

But that time honored platitude has little excuse for existence nowadays, said the photographer, because in all of the best galleries pictures are taken by short exposure, which is practically instantaneous. The people who know more about photography and the art of getting a good likeness than does the operator often cause him some annoyance and a good deal of amusement.

"In deciding upon a pose for the face," continued the photographer, "we must exercise great care. In the few seconds that we have to look at the subject we must decide (provided, of course, we are allowed to decide) what position of the face will give the best likeness. It is true of almost everybody that one side of the face is quite markedly better looking than the other, and for this reason comparatively few full face or front view photos are taken. But sometimes we have to deal with individuals who insist upon a pose of the face that is distinctly bad. Not long ago a certain man came to me with the photograph of a friend which showed the face in clear profile. He said he wanted a photo of himself in exactly that position. It so happened that the model which he submitted had an unusually good profile, and consequently the picture was quite effective. But my subject's profile was faulty. Indeed he had a nose 'as was a nose.' It was gigantic. I saw right away that a profile of his face would be anything but flattering to the owner, and I tried to break it to him gently.

"But," he said, "you admit that this is a fine photo, and I know that the likeness is excellent. Why can't you get the same results from my face? I think I am quite as good looking as he is, don't you?"

"That isn't the point," said I, because I didn't want to hurt the man's feelings. You know that no two faces are alike, and I am only telling you that a profile is not your best view."

"But he wasn't satisfied and insisted on a profile, so rather than anger him I took that view of his face and afterward one which I thought was better.
The next day he came in to see his proofs. I showed him the profile first.
There was no overlooking that nose. It loomed up like Mount Tom from Smith's Ferry. I pitied the poor chap. He looked up from the proof at me and said:

"Good Lord! Do I look like that?"

"The camera doesn't lie about such things," I replied, at the same time handing him the other proof. He looked a good deal relieved when he saw the second proof. But I could see that he was badly bored about that nose. He looked at first one and then the other proof for a minute. Then he handed both back to me and said in a humble tone, "You may develop the other one."
And I didn't need to be told which was the "other one."—Springfield Republi-

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and adds to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver, and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from any objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50 cent bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

SHANKS!

That is a rather vulgar term some people use for designating walking. It is peculiarly adapted to the building lots we are selling on Richmond Hill. They are so close to the business portion of the city that you can walk there in less than five minutes. It does not cost ten to twenty cents a day to go and come. If it did, we would not advise you to buy such a place. It would equal the interest on an ordinary home every year. If you should borrow enough money to build a little home, and were compelled to pay 20 or 30 cents every day to get there and back, it would be like paying 12 per cent interest every year. This is one of the reasons we advise "Richmond Hill" lots: you can use "SHANKS," and, besides, property close to Franklin Square will always be worth more money than land two miles away. We are dividing profits with first comers.

A False Diagnosis

La Grippe is confounded by many persons with a severe attack of catarrh, which in some respects resembles the former. These individuals suffer severely with pain about the head, eyes and ears, with soreness in throat and stoppage of the nasal passages, and in fact, are incapacitated for work of any kind for days at a time. These are catarrhal sufferers. Ely's Cream Balm has been used with the best results in such cases. The remedy will give instant relief.

THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1895.

"Wages increased" is now a standing head in the New York Herald and every day announcements are made of better wages for many men.

The State Commission in Lunacy, in view of the failure of the bill to transfer New York city's insane to State care, proposes to exercise the power vested in it and compel the city authorities to make better provision for the unfortunates in the Ward's Island asylums.

City Treasurer Bolin, of Omaha, who has got away with $610,000 of the city's money, says that liquor is the cause of all his trouble. At this distance it looks as if Mr. Bolin was loading more than his share of responsibility on liquor. There must have been something wrong with the man who would keep on stealing till he had made away with such a large sum.

An urgent demand has been made on Spain, by Secretary of State Olney, for the payment of the Mora claim, which grew out of the confiscation of valuable sugar property in Cuba, which belonged to an American citizen. In 1886, Spain acknowledged having been in the wrong and agreed to pay $1,500,000, but the money has not been forthcoming, and the State Department evidently thinks it has shown all the leniency necessary and now proposes to have the money.

Our Animal Friends, published by the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, asserts that the close confinement of cattle in poorly ventilated stables predisposes them to tuberculosis and, if one animal in a herd is infected, spreads just the conditions necessary for the infection of others. There is undoubtedly much truth in this contention, for it is impossible for an animal, that is not given opportunity for exercise and that only now and then gets a breath of pure air, to remain in perfect health, and susceptibility to the infection of tuberculosis and, to all other diseases depends much on the general health.

The Committee of Seventy which did so much to bring about the election of Mayor Strong and which has been assisting him in re-organizing the city government and naming new officials went out of existence, yesterday. The last hours of the committee were not entirely peaceful, for certain Republican partisans objected to the report of the executive committee, which denounced the "vicious legislation" of the Republican legislature and condemned Mayor Strong for approving of city bills, which were in the interest of the Republican party rather than of the whole people. The protests of the partisans were, however, of no avail and the report was adopted in the form in which it had been submitted.

It is not at all to the credit of the taxpayers of Middletown that the appropriation of $1,250 for Thrall Hospital was voted down at yesterday's tax election. The appropriation would no doubt have been voted had it not been that many citizens felt that any sum which the city contributed towards the Hospital's maintenance should come from the large excise fund in the hands of the Charity Commissioners instead of the pockets of the taxpayers. As an abstract proposition this is true enough, but it is claimed that the Charity Commissioners have not the right to use the excise money for this purpose, and the result of yesterday's action will no doubt be to embarrass and cripple the Board of Hospital Managers, whose task in the past has not been easy, and who have faced and conquered every difficulty with an uncomplaining cheerfulness and a dauntless courage that ought to have won for them a strong hold on public sympathy and consideration.

One reason why the hospital appropriation failed was because it was not backed up by the organized support of a powerful organization like Excelsiors, who carried through the appropriation for their new truck with a grand hurrah. Nor did the hospital appropriation cloak any such political purpose (as was back of the extravagant appropriation for permanent street work, and which expects to reap a harvest of Republican votes from the many thousands of dollars that will be squandered in doing the work under the direction of the city officials. Looking as dispassionately as possible at the many useless and extravagant items in the tax budget and at the defeated hospital appropriation, there is no escape from the humiliating conclusion that the city of Middletown, while willing to spend thousands of dollars in extravagance and folly, is not willing to spend a few hundred dollars in aid of a worthy charity.

The first Republican convention of the year was held in Washington county, Wednesday. "Harmony raged furiously," the Platt and anti-Platt men came to blows, half-a-dozen deputy sheriffs could not maintain order, and finally a recess was taken to give the opposing factions a chance to cool off. The anti-Platt men did some fine work during the recess, and at the evening session organized the convention and had things their own way.

THE KIEL CANAL.

Formally Opened To-day With Impassioned Ceremonies.

BRUNSBUTTEL, June 20.—At 3 o'clock, this morning, the Kiel Canal was formally opened when the despatch boat Grille entered the canal locks, at Brunsbüttel, followed by the imperial yacht Zoller, with the Emperor on board, the Kaiser Adolph, with the German kings and Grand Dukes, the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm, with other German officials. Next came the foreign yachts and despatch boats. The scene was a brilliant one. As the Kaiser drove to the river front to embark on the Zoller the crowd cheered incessantly.

The weather is perfect. The cruiser Marblehead entered the canal at 9:45. She was roundly cheered. The head of the procession is expected to arrive at Holtenau, the other end of the canal, about 6 o'clock, this evening.

HYMENEAL.
Ferguson-Mikles.
The residence of Mr. John Mikles, near Bullville, was the scene of a pretty wedding, last evening at 8 o'clock, when his daughter, Cora M. was united in marriage with Mr. Samuel M. Ferguson, son of Mr. J. A. Ferguson, Highway Commissioner of the town of Walkkill.
The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Mann, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Scotlandtown, in the presence of about one hundred friends.
The parlors were tastefully decorated with flowers and the happy couple stood during the ceremony under an arch, from which a floral horse shoe, the emblem of good luck, was suspended.
The bride wore a handsome dress of steel colored faille Francaise, trimmed with chiffon and pearl passermenterie.
The bridesmaid was Miss Carrie L. Puff, who wore a dress of white cashmere with lace trimmings.
The best man was Mr. Jessie Bookstaver and the ushers were Mable Mikles, the three-year-old sister of the bride, and Ernest Dunham, the two-and-a-half-year-old nephew of the groom.
Four generations were represented at the wedding, Mrs. Sarah A. Ferguson, her son J. A. Ferguson, the groom, and his nephew, Master Ernest Dunham.
After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served and some time was spent in social pleasures. The presents were numerous and very handsome.
Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson drove to this city, last night, and stopped at the Holding House. They left town on O. and W. train 1 for a short wedding tour, and when they return will board with the groom's business partner, Mr. Theodore Weller, at Ellenville.
The Argus joins in the congratulations and good wishes of the many friends of the young couple.

Ryan-Quinn.
Mr. Dennis Ryan and Miss Josephine Quinn were united in marriage at St. Joseph's Church, at 5:30 o'clock, last evening.
The bride was attired in changeable gray silk. The bridesmaid was Miss Ella Lee, of New York city, and the groomsmen were Michael Carrigan, of this city.
After the ceremony a reception was held at their home. The presents were: Chair from Mr. and Mrs. John Lee, of Broad street; chair, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lynch, of Cornwall; silver sugar bowl and half-dozen silver spoons, M. Carrigan; hand painted glasses, Miss Ella Lee; silver butter knife and sugar spoon, Mr. and Mrs. McGuire; half-dozen silver tea spoons, Mr. O. H. Wilson; handsome plate, Miss Ethel May Lynch, Cornwall.
The happy couple will reside at 181 West Main street, where Mr. Ryan will engage in the grocery business.
Byron used a great deal of hair dressing, but was very particular to have only the best to be found in the market. If Ayer's Hair Vigor had been obtainable then, doubtless he would have tested its merits, as so many distinguished and fashionable people are doing now-a-days.

BURIED IN A SAND BANK.
George Stanton's Perilous Position—Buried Up to His Neck for an Hour Before Discovered—Barely Injured.
Mr. George A. Stanton, of 219 East Main street, this city, had a decidedly unpleasant experience, yesterday, besides sustaining serious injuries.
About 4 o'clock he drove to Warner's sand bank to get a load of sand. He had just completed filling his wagon when the bank began to cave in, and before he could get out of the way, his body was covered up to his neck.
Fortunately his head was left sticking out of the sand and he called for help as loudly as he could with the great weight of sand almost squeezing the breath out of him. But there was no one near him and it was not until after 5 o'clock that a farmer driving along the road heard his cries and on going to the bank discovered his perilous situation.
He began at once to try to extricate Mr. Stanton, but the task was too great for one man and he started for help. Joseph Turner arrived about this time and soon there were half a dozen men working vigorously with shovels. It required fifteen minutes of very hard work to get him out, which was finally accomplished.
The ambulance was called out and Mr. Stanton was taken to his home, where Drs. Pillsbury and Sprague made an examination and found that besides some bruises, two ribs were broken and his hip was dislocated.
Mr. Stanton is resting comfortably, to-day, but he will be laid up for a long time.

THE TAX ELECTION.
All the sums asked for Allowed Except that for Thrall Hospital—The Vote.
When the polls closed at the Council chamber, at 8 o'clock, last night, 280 votes had been cast, and the inspectors, after making the count, announced the result as follows:
PERMANENT STREET FUND.
For.....149-30
Against.....119
Blank.....12
THRALL HOSPITAL APPROPRIATION.
For.....127
Against.....137-10
Blank.....16
EXCELSIOR'S TRUCK.
For.....169-73
Against.....96
Blank.....15
WINDING TOWN CLOCK.
For.....127-5
Against.....122
Blank.....31
FIRE PARADE.
For.....181-98
Against.....83
Blank.....16
For the items of $50 each to Gen. Lyon and Capt. Jackson Posts, 143 votes were cast for, and 118 against, with 19 blank, a majority of 25 for each.
It will be seen that all the sums asked for were voted except that for Thrall Hospital. The reason for this item being killed, is that many people believe that whatever contribution is made to the hospital should come out of the excise fund which is being piled up from year to year and doing no one any good, and should not be raised by general tax.
The votes recorded as blank or most of them at least were doubtless intended to be cast against the appropriation. Through a misunderstanding many people scratched off an item believing that in effect they were voting against it, whereas the law requires that each vote for or against must be so specified.
Excelsiors wanted a new truck, and like the boy wanted the wood-chuck for dinner, they wanted it bad, and set about to get it by getting out every active and honorary member, and each of such members got out all of his friends he could vote for the truck and, while this item was voted by a good majority, it is believed that many who would not otherwise have voted at all cast a "for" ballot for everything, and but for this effort on the part of Excelsiors, every item on the list would have been killed except that for the annual fire parade.
The tax levy, this year, will be $78,213.33, and something additional for erroneous taxes—a much larger sum than was ever paid before, and $8,239.20 more than last year.
Of this vast sum the Common Council appropriated $42,205.12, a larger sum than necessary; the requisition of the Board of Education and interest charges amount to $25,843.26, and the people have voted $10,250 more.
Many people who did not think it worth while to vote at the election, yesterday, will be heard from later when they come to pay their taxes.

A Burglary in Port Jervis.
A burglar entered the residence of Mr. Edward Carroll, in Port Jervis last night, and after ransacking the first floor and securing no booty, went to the bed room in which Mr. and Mrs. Carroll were sleeping, and carried Mr. Carroll's trousers to the front porch, where he took from them a gold watch and chain and a small sum of money.
Population of the State Hospital.
According to the Conglomerate there were, Tuesday, 1,119 patients in the State Homeopathic Hospital for the Insane in this city, of whom 552 were males and 567 females. During the week three patients were admitted and two discharged.

Local and Personal Notes—When Sparrows Build.
From a Special Correspondent.
—Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Duryea, Rev. Wm. E. Maisson and Miss May Grier went to Cornwall, last Thursday, to attend the commencement exercises of the Military Academy in that town, which Master Charles F. Duryea has been attending during the last year.
—Mr. Theodore Berdell and daughter, of Summit, N. J., are the guests of Mr. Chas. P. Berdell at his home in this village.
—The writer has recently heard of a shameful case of the persecution of a man by a colony of sparrows. These sparrows did not live on the house top, but in a tree under the victim's bedroom window. They had evidently heard the proverb about the early bird and the worm, and were in the habit of rising at day break to discuss among each other whether there was any truth in the saying. This let the worm off easily, but was aggravating to the man, who would have been grateful to them if they would have gone off and attended strictly to business and not had quite so much to say about it. Finally he laid awake all the early part of the night devising plans to get the best of them, and in the early morning they saw that he got no rest. Violent shaking of the tree and the throwing of various missiles into it were of no avail, but at last he had a happy thought. He sallied forth and bought a pound of red pepper, with which he plentifully besprinkled the tree and then went to bed chuckling. The sparrows didn't mind; they didn't even sneeze, but the neighbors did. If the wind blew from the west the people on the opposite side of the street kept him awake by their paroxysms; if it veered to the east, he sneezed his head off. It was somewhat on the plan of antiphonal singing. At last, in their desperation, he tied the ends of the limbs containing the nests to the lower part of the tree and, at daybreak, at the sound of the first twitter, he cut the lashings. The limbs flew back to their places and the air was filled with lamentations and sparrows, but the latter, like the cat in the ballad, "came back," and by the next morning were as lively as ever. Then he cut the tree down. G. H.

GYPSIES COME TO GRIEF.

While Going Back to Camp Very Drunk, They Drive Into a Street Excavation—No Serious Results.

About 12 o'clock, last night, the residents of Hanford St., near West Main, were startled by a crash and a yell, followed by the moaning of a man and the snorting of a horse. Investigation showed that a horse had fallen into an excavation which had been made to repair a break in the water main. The occupants of the vehicle, two men, had been thrown out and one was apparently badly injured. The wagon was turned at right angles across the top of the bank of earth which had been thrown up and the horse was unable to move, being entangled in the harness.

After considerable difficulty the harness was removed and the wagon righted. The horse, thus liberated, scrambled out of the hole, which was half filled with water and mud. The animal was apparently none the worse for its involuntary bath, for it commenced to eat grass as soon as it reached a place of safety. The men were also uninjured, both of them being grossly intoxicated. They gave their names as Wells, and said that they belonged to the band of gypsies which is encamped on the Mount Hope road, just west of the city. The harness was so badly cut and broken as to render it useless, and after considerable argument the men decided to leave the buggy where it was until morning.

Notwithstanding the protests of the bystanders both men mounted the horse's back and started for their camp.

The accident was the result of the carelessness of the men, who were evidently both asleep in the wagon. A member of Waikill Engine Company was returning to his home in Hanford street and had reached the excavation just as the horse struck the bank. Bright lights were burning at each end of the obstruction, and there was ample room to pass safely. The horse went directly into the bank of soft mud, and as it floundered about the animal fell into the hole. The men came out of the wagon over the dashboard. The hole was fully six feet deep, and that horse and men escaped uninjured seems almost a miracle.

THE VISITING MILITIAMEN.

Members of the 5th Company Return Home Well Pleased with Their Visit—The Drill, Dress Parade and Review—The 24th to Visit Newburgh.

The 5th Separate Company, of Newburgh, in spite of the fact that they had put in a hard day's work and had been given but slight opportunity for sight seeing, started for home at 7:27 o'clock, last evening, declaring, to a man, that they had thoroughly enjoyed their visit to Middletown.

The afternoon turned out intensely hot and but very little breeze was stirring, but the men went through the evolutions of a battalion drill with as much snap and vim as they would have been compelled to show under the watchful eyes of State Camp officials.

The battalion drill over, the visitors were escorted through the State Hospital, and after half an hour's rest the companies were reviewed by Dr. S. H. Talcott. The 24th Separate Company Band arrived on the ground at 4:30, and to their efforts and excellent playing, the success of the review and the dress parade, which followed, is largely due.

Upon their return to the Armory both companies sat down to an excellent dinner, prepared by Alvin Gey, chef at J. Gunther's Midway Park restaurant, and served under the direction of Corporal Fred Cooper and Privates DeWitt and Reosa, who proved themselves the "right men in the right place."

There was very little time for visiting left, for at 7 o'clock both companies reassembled and marched to the James street depot, where good-byes were said.

The 24th will visit Newburgh in August or September, where a second drill will be held, with Capt. Chase as acting-major.

The Boys Around the Trolley Cars Had Better Keep Away.

The Traction Company has had complaints from parents that children were allowed to play around the electric cars at the end of the routes on North, East and West Main streets and Acad my avenue, and that they are allowed to turn the trolley and the seats, etc. The Traction Company feels that parents should forbid their children to play around the cars, but has issued strict orders to motormen and conductors to stop the practice. The aid of the police has also been solicited, and arrests will follow if the children do not keep away from the cars.

SAVE THE BABY!

Of All the Infants Born in Middletown

One Fifth Die Before They Have Lived One Year.

Two-thirds Succumb to Summer Diarrhoea.

Babies Fed on Lactated Food Keep Strong and Well.

This Best of Foods is Very Far from Expensive.

PAUL DOHERTY.

The baby is sick. What mother there who does not know the anguish comprised in that one brief sentence? The old, old "mother pain," as a writer has named it, rushes over her at the first symptoms of disease in her darling, and is never lightened until the wee patient is once more restored to health.

Yet all this tenderness is worthless if not intelligently directed. Mothers cannot be too careful now in June in observing the beginning of illness. The first symptom of stomach or bowel disturbance must be instantly attended to. It does not take long for such complaints to assume serious proportions. Recourse should be had at once to lactated food.

Thousands of infant lives have been saved by a timely use of lactated food. Its use as a steady diet, especially during the hazardous early summer time insures freedom from sickness, keeps up the child's strength and allows it to grow in weight and size right through the summer.

During hot weather strength must be kept up, but without burdening and overturning the delicate digestive organs. It is here that mothers and physicians find lactated food necessary. The explanation of the unparalleled success of this food in keeping babies strong through the summer is that in its composition it is the nearest approach to nature's food that modern science can produce. It is pleasant to the taste, and is taken by babies with a relish and is easily digested and assimilated.

It is what physicians term a pre-digested food, and is especially valuable in all weak conditions of the digestive organs, not only for infants but for invalids and aged people.

Mothers may stop worrying about their babies after they have once been put on a diet of lactated food. Trained nurses keep lactated food on hand even when baby is fed on mother's milk, or when weaning or during any possible illness of the mother, lactated food best takes the place of the natural food. Try. It saves babies lives.

And remember that of all the babies born in Middletown one in every five dies before it is a year old, and two-thirds of all the deaths are due to summer diarrhoea, against which a diet of lactated food is the most perfect security.

Mrs. E. A. Doherty, 13 Linden St., Fall River, Mass., whose baby's picture is given above, writes:

"Enclosed I hand you a photograph of my boy, Paul Doherty. He is one and a half years and has taken lactated food all his life. It has answered every purpose and kept him healthy and robust every moment of his life, and we are very grateful for its benefits. It is my opinion gained from experience that in the promotion of health and infantile beauty, nature never had such an aid as lactated food. Accept my thanks for the many blessings of rosy health and happiness, lactated food has bestowed on my little ones."

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

No Cause of Action in a Slander Case—A Suit Against the Kilmer Company

Monday a verdict was given Martin V. Sigler in an action against the Kilmer Company for breach of contract. Sigler alleged that Wilcox called him bad names. Wilcox Bennett appeared for the plaintiff, H. B. Fullerton and C. E. Cuddeback for the defense. The jury returned a verdict of no cause of action, the Court granting an allowance of $25.

The case of John Winknokey vs. the Kilmer Manufacturing Company was then taken up. This has been before the courts on previous occasions. The plaintiff alleges that a defective chain in use by the Kilmers broke, allowing a weight to fall upon him, causing severe injuries.

INJURED BY A FALL

A Carpenter Goes Down With a Ladder and is Badly Hurt.

Last evening when Mr. Harvey Goodjohn, a well known carpenter employed by Mr. P. F. Miller, was descending a ladder after quitting work on a house on Houston's hill, the ladder slipped and he fell a distance of about twelve feet striking with his back on a large stone. He was taken to his home and Dr. Connor was called, who found that no bones were broken, but that his patient had sustained serious injuries, the full extent of which he was unable to determine at present. Mr. Goodjohn spent a very restless night, suffering much pain and it is feared may have sustained internal injuries.
